"Not On Your Life."

The New York Herald has been making a canvass of the workmen of the city to ascertain their views and finds a very pronounced opposition to the silver dollar proposed by the Democratic platform. In a large establishment a number of men were found taking the question, over before going to work. Some of them advanced the idea that the Democrats should stand by the party, especially in view of the promise that free silver would give the poor man more money. In reply to this statement of the case another working-man said:

"Not on your life. I am too good a Democrat to ask workmen to accept fifty-cent dollars for work. And then you will go about kicking yourselves and complaining. Half of you will vote for McKinley when election day comes!"

These are the words of a level headed workman. For a good many years laboring men have been standing by the Democratic party. It has appealed to prejudice rather than to reason and in too many instances the wage earners have permitted prejudice to carry the day. The last campaign is a good illustration of the point. The Democrats arranged class against class. The employers of labor were denounced as robbers and thieves and the wage earners were told that their interests could best be served by voting the Democratic ticket. The country was then prosperous and labor was fully employed at the highest rate of wages ever paid on the face of the globe.

A great many laboring men, however, permitted themselves to be deluded by the demagogic arguments poured into their ears and they stood by the Democratic party. What have they been doing since? The workmen quoted above answers the question. They have been kicking themselves. Indeed that has been about the only occupation a good many of them have been able to find under this Democratic Administration. Now the same party is after their votes again, but on a different tack. The tariff says the Democratic advance is no longer an issue. He does not say why, but every laboring man who has been thrown out of employment or had his wages reduced can supply the reason why the party is so anxious to have the people, especially the wage earners, discuss anything but the tariff. It is because the Democratic promises have proved to be a myth. Instead of improving their opportunities the wage earners have learned to their sorrow that they have suffered severely as a direct result of the Democratic victory four years ago. The object lesson of Democratic failure in dealing with the tariff has been so forcibly impressed upon the minds of the people that the party leaders realize the folly of attempting another campaign of deception on that point.

But the Democratic party, as a party, cannot deal honestly with the people. It is still running along the lines of deception with the difference that the currency has been substituted for the tariff. Again an appeal is made to the laboring men for their votes, the argument being that the free coinage of silver the poor man would have more money. The actual facts are that the Democratic party having curtailed the earning capacity of labor by its raid on the tariff, is now advocating a political party that would pay labor in fifty cent dollars. That is to say the purchasing power of its wages would be cut down by one-half. Even the silver mine owners, who stand to reap enormous harvest under the enactment of free coinage legislation, admit that the Government could not long sustain the party between gold and silver with the doors of the United States ports opened to receive all the silver offered for coinage, and then the silver dollar would fail to its actual commercial value, which at present is about fifty cents. It would be still called a dollar, but its purchasing power would be reduced one-half.

It is perfectly easy for every workingman to apply this condition to his wages and figure out just what effect the free coinage of silver would have upon his income. If he is earning ten dollars a week divide it by two and it will give the result. Let the laboring men of the country do a little thinking for themselves, and then when they are asked to vote the Democratic ticket this fall they will answer in the language of the New York workingman, "Not on your life."

A Vigorous Campaign.

The Republican State Committee held a meeting at Augusta Wednesday evening for the purpose of discussing plans for the coming campaign. Senators Frye and Hale and Congressmen Dixey, Mifflin and Boutelle were present, together with many prominent Republicans from all parts of the State; including Mr. Powers, the candidate for Governor.

The political situation was discussed in brief speeches in which but few sentiments prevailed, namely, the importance of perfecting a thorough organization for a vigorous campaign among the people. The campaign apparently is to be conducted on the principle of "let them come." The people will be allowed to come and the Republicans will be ready to meet them.

This contest. There was a spirit of earnest enthusiasm pervading the meeting that augurs well for a vigorous campaign.

Col. J. K. Stetson was present and as the nominator of Representative candidates in this city has attracted considerable attention and brought out some comment based on an apparent misunderstanding of the situation, he explained to the committee just what had been done in Bangor, why and how the caucus system had been changed and the result of the legal caucus called by the majority of the committee. Mr. Boutelle, who represented Col. Fairham on the committee, the last named gentleman having been detained at home by sickness, sustained the position taken by the majority of the City Committee and referred to the representative character of the memorial which had been signed by over six hundred Republicans. Of course no action was taken or expected on the part of the State Committee, but a number of gentlemen present assured Col. Stetson at the close of the meeting that there could be no doubt as to the legality of the action of the majority of the Republican City Committee.

Good Reports From Nebraska.

Some days since we published a letter from the Republican Club of Nebraska, the most influential political organization in the State, to Governor McKinley congratulating him and the country on his nomination, and promising him the enthusiastic support of Nebraska in the coming campaign. The letter was entitled to especial significance as it came from the home of the Democratic candidate where the vagaries of the Chicago platform are well understood, the people of that State having successfully contested every man in past elections.

Now the same encouraging report of the sentiment of Nebraska comes from a different source. Deputy State Auditor Stewart says he never before saw so much enthusiasm as is now exhibited at Republican gatherings in the State. There are 1,057 delegates in attendance at the State convention, the first of this month, and not one was for free silver. Mr. Bryan is recognized by the people of Nebraska as a bright young man, but that they do not approve his crazy ideas of government seems to have been quite clearly demonstrated when he was forced to decline re-nomination to his Congressional district owing to the pronounced opposition to his course, opposition that turned the district over to the Republicans by five thousand majority.

In that campaign Mr. Bryan thought his chances would be improved by devoting his attention to the election of a Democratic Legislature which was to send him to the United States Senate. His peculiar style of eloquence was heard all over the State, but the people of Nebraska did not want Bryan in the Senate and elected a Republican Legislature.

The members of the new United States Congress are in this city for the purpose of inspecting the forests, but the visitors find they can go out on account of the fires. From information they have of the extent of the fire, they estimate the damage at many millions of dollars.

The report of the ordination of Rev.

Baptist church last evening will be

All members of Wildley Lodge are to

All Fellow's Hall Saturday evening.

A special meeting of the city council is to be held this evening. Business re lating to the new hotel house in the Mill Dam area and other matters will come up.

Mr. Charles Banbury, who built the new concrete sidewalk on the westerly side of Holyoke street, is now doing several jobs of contracting for private parties along the street.

The plans for the new school house which is to be built at the Mill Dam will be in the hands of City Clerk Farham at City Hall during the day when all Brewer contractors are invited to ex amine them and if they wish, figure on the job.

C. Clark has commenced quite ex tensive improvements on his grocery store which was slightly damaged by the fire in Farrington block a few weeks ago.
The ceiling is to be sheathed, the wood work painted and other things attended to which will add to the appearance of the store.

THE EAST SIDE PHARMACY,

H. O. MILLER.

And still another was added to the list of fine games this week and the Bangor took sweet revenge upon the New Bedford to the tune of 10 to 4. Willie Maine was in the box for us and he had the sunny guessing, doing very effective work. It is a treat to see him pitch. The only error by the home team was Radford's miss of a high fly, but that did no harm as he threw out the runner who was at first at second base. Doe's gang got to fighting among themselves as usual. It is a decidedly off day when the cowboys do not have a "growl-around."

Wedgie muffed a throw ball and Doe put him out of the game for it. Steere made back talk to Brady and was fined $2. One of the funny features of the game was the bunting of Maine. The first time he waved at the ball with one hand and struck out. After that he put out the bat and let it go as the ball struck. It worked well. His broken finger prevented him from gripping the stick firmly and he feared might hurt it again by batting. Brady pitched two games in one afternoon at Augusta, winning both, so he expected victory yesterday, but was allowed another game.

The home team punched hits well, especially in the 9th when five were made in succession. Radford made a pretty steal home while Birmingham held the ball in his hand, arguing with the umpire or somebody. O'Brien made a home run while Roberts was trying to find the ball in the ditch right field. He also got two other hits and backed up to the home plate and was right in the game. Simon made some good catches, Radford did great work, as did Moore. Cavanaugh put out three pretty hits and Roach caught finely.

Moore made a very brilliant play on a ground ball of second, throwing Birmingham out at first. Waibel and Steere were up to their dirty tricks as usual. Walters made a difficult capture and Murphy and Steere did good work. There was lots of fun; all of the 500 were glad they were there. The score:
